

What You Need To Know About the Monkeypox Virus

ABOUT MONKEYPOX

Monkeypox is a viral disease. It causes mild illness, and symptoms resolve within a few weeks. In rare cases, severe infections and death can occur.

MONKEYPOX SYMPTOMS

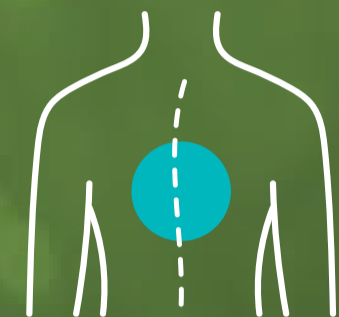

FEVER HEAT

HEADACHE

MUSCLE PAIN

BACKACHE

SWOLLEN LYMPH NODES

CHILLS

EXHAUSTION

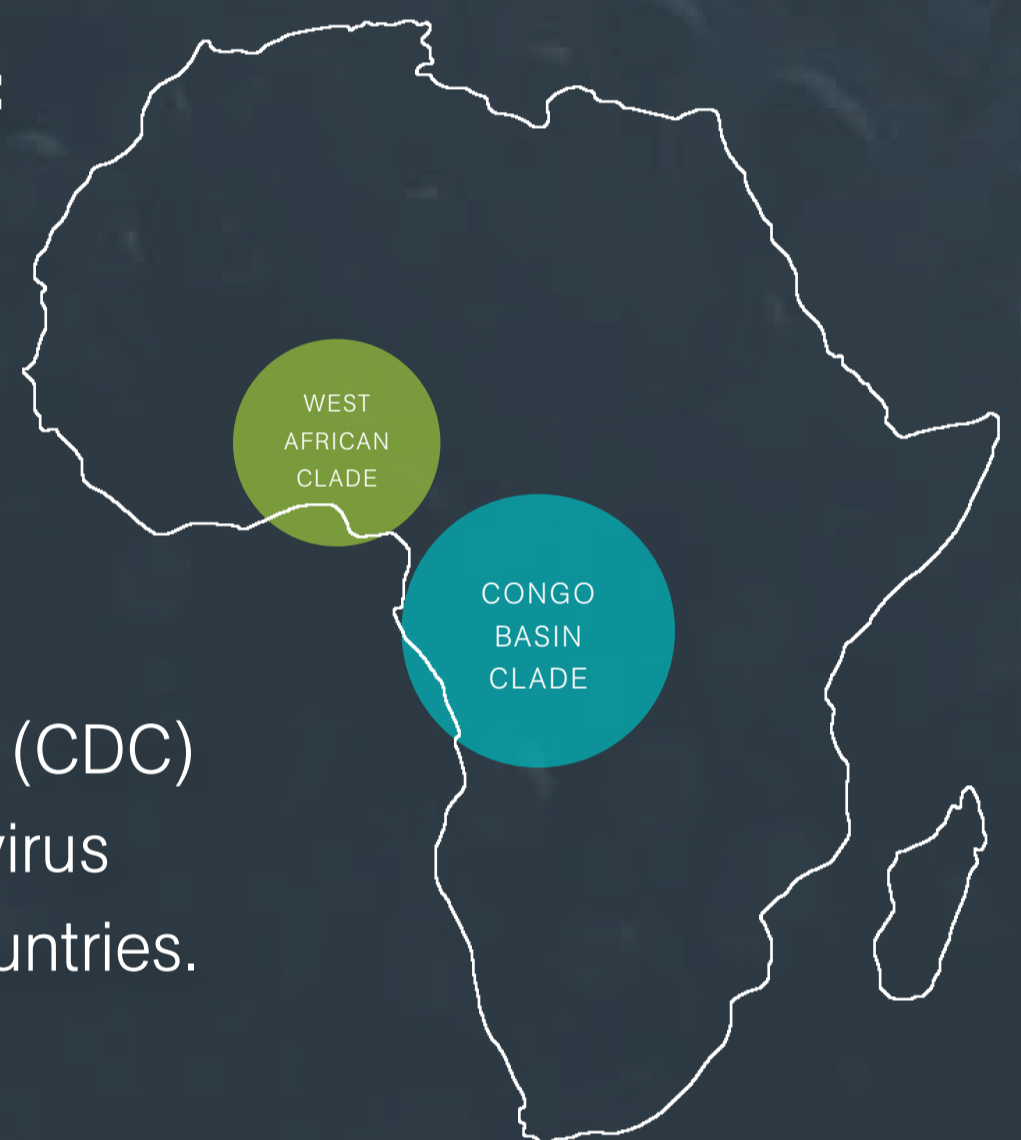

RASH

HOW IS MONKEYPOX VIRUS CLASSIFIED?

Monkeypox is classified in two distinct clades:

- West African clade is managed as routine RMW (UN 3291)
- Congo basin clade is managed as Category A Infectious Substance (UN 2814)

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) has issued a health advisory titled monkeypox virus Infection in the USA and other non-endemic countries.

HOW IT SPREADS

Monkeypox can spread through close contact including sexual contact with someone who has the virus. For example:

PREVENTING MONKEYPOX

Stay at home when sick

Cover coughs and sneezes

Clean and disinfect surfaces and objects

Wash your hands regularly

For more information on how to handle Regulated Medical Waste from Monkeypox Cases:

<https://www.danielshealth.com/knowledge-center/how-handle-regulated-medical-waste-monkeypox-cases>